RAIL STRIKE CUTS DEEPER INTO BUSINESS

By The Associated Press

Rail links between New York and the rest of the country were breaking apart today.

Elsewhere the crisis caused by the switchmen's "Sick Call" strike was growing more critical.

With the nation's economy threatened, the government pressed to end the walkout. Twenty-five major trains connecting New York with the west were cancelled.

Both the New York Central and the Pennsylvania shut off vital commuter service between New York and many suburbs.

Other cities had similar problems.

Philadelphia, Feb. 2—(P)—The crippling strike of railroad employees cut deeper into the business and industrial life of Pennsylvania today.

In some places movement of materials to vital factories was reduced to a mere trickle. Sea cargoes mounted on piers. Thousands of hard coal miners faced idleness for want of cars. Suburban and long distance travel felt a tighter pinch. All along the production line the consensus was that the situation was growing acute.

The greater Philadelphia area remained hardest hit by the widening walkout of switchmen and other railroad employees, but other sections of the state have been severely affected in the last 12 hours.

The sick call strike of switchmen spread last night to Pittsburgh and brought fresh difficulties into the anthracite region. This may have brought the total number of striking railmen in Pennsylvania to about 2,000.

Statements of union and Pennsylvania Railroad spokesmen differed on the extent of the walkout in Pittsburgh. A union representative said at least 50 switchmen stayed away from work, and asserted the steel city's yards would be 100 per cent shutdown. A PRR spokesman, on the other hand, said "only seven" men failed to report for duty. He added that although trains were running several hours late, no curtailment of passenger service was necessary. The most serious consequence of the strike in Pittsburgh would be

Four of Seven Martinsville Negroes Denied 11-Hour Stay, Are Electrocuted

Richmond, Va., Feb. 2—(P)—Four of seven Martinsville negroes, denied an eleventh hour stay by the chief justice of the United States, were electrocuted in the old state penitentiary here today for the rape of a white woman. Three others are to die Monday.

There was no demonstration at the prison although mass meetings and prayer vigils have been held in Richmond during the past week while attorneys made frantic legal efforts to gain a stay of execution or to obtain clemency.

They paid with their lives for the mass assault on Mrs. Ruby Stroud Floyd two years ago in a "shanty town" section of Martinsville. The electrocution of the four required exactly one hour.

The execution wound up a case which has echoed around the world. The sentences were assailed as an example of racial discrimination since no white man has been executed for rape in Virginia—at least since 1908.

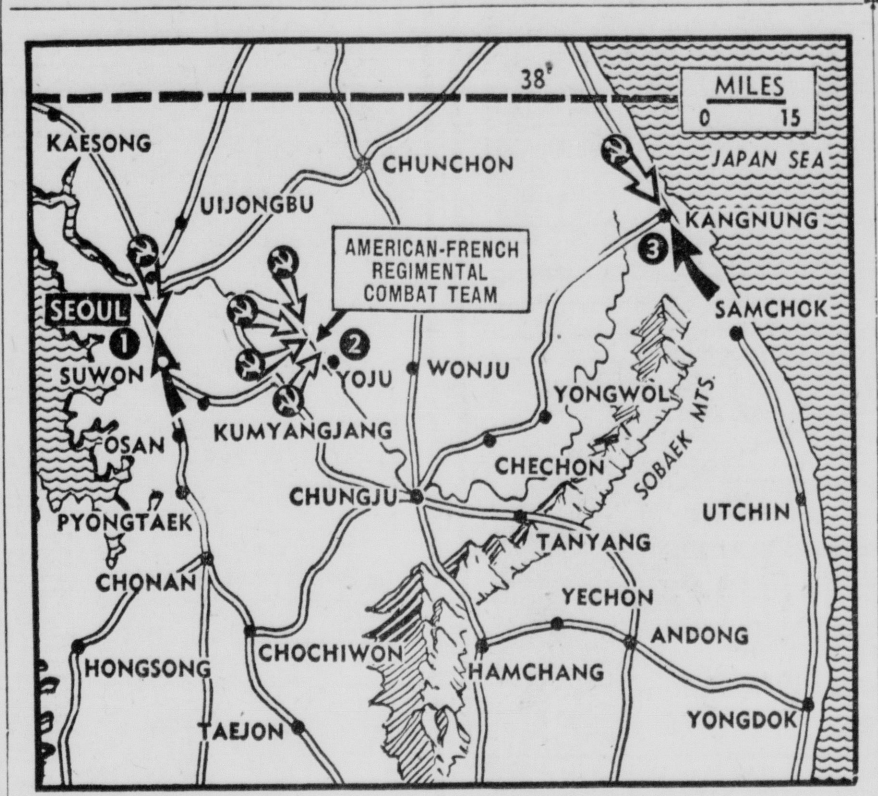

More than 10,000 communications urging pardon or clemency for the Martinsville seven have come into the governor's office in the past year. Recently the civil rights congress has been co-sponsor in a national "committee to save the Martinsville seven," and with interest there met hundreds of delegates from in Richmond this week to urge intervention by the governor or the courts. The courts of Virginia and the federal courts have declined to intervene repeatedly.

The United States supreme court rejected an appeal twice and only last night negro attorneys were closeted with Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson at Washington for several hours. It was 1:30 this morning when the announcement was made that he would not intervene.

TOT TRAFFIC VICTIM

Pittsburgh, Feb. 2—(P)—A truck-led collision yesterday killed Lawrence Wolfe, seven, near his home in Robinson township.

Enemy Resistance Weakens As Allies Drive Northward

REDS FALL BACK IN WEST—Signs of weakening enemy resistance were evident as UN forces plunged ahead up to three miles in fighting below Seoul (1). An embattled Franco-American combat team about 10 miles north of Yoji (2) was attempting to smash an encircling attack by 6000 Communist troops. Northwest of Suwon, Turkish troops, and northeast, American and Puerto Rican units steadily gained ground, leaving many enemy dead. On east coast ROK troops engaged two Red battalions in Kangnun (3) area.

Wage-Price Freeze Shows Signs of Mild Thaw With Relaxation On Several Items

Washington, Feb. 2—(P)—The nation's wage-price freeze showed signs today of a mild thaw, but officials still grappled with the complicated problem of devising a general overall formula to govern future relaxation of controls.

The first break in last Friday's across-the-board price freeze came late yesterday when the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) announced that all strictly military items will be exempted from ceilings.

A few minutes later the agency announced approval of an increase of up to 90 cents a ton in the price of coal.

OPS made it clear that the lifting of the price freeze on military goods would affect very few, if any, commodities used by civilians. And military prices still will be subject to control, the agency asserted, through contract negotiations or later renegotiations by the Defense Department to prevent excessive profits.

In approving the coal price hike, the stabilization office said it was being made to compensate coal producers for a miners' wage increase which became effective yesterday.

Behind-The-Scenes Battle Shaping Up In United Nations

Lake Success, Feb. 2—(P)—A behind-the-scenes battle was shaping up in the United Nations today over whether sanctions should be voted against aggressor Red China if peace moves fail.

A top-heavy majority united in the 47-7 General Assembly vote yesterday labelling Mao Tse-tung and his Red hordes aggressors for their attack on U. N. troops in Korea.

But it already is splitting over what would be the most effective step against Red China.

Assembly President Nasrallah Entezam still was trying to get his three-man peace committee filled out. The U. S. let it be known that it wanted the collective measures—sanctions—committee to get down to business not later than next week.

But many members went along with the Americans on the Red China indictment because it contained the Lebanese go-slow-on-sanctions amendment which the U. S. accepted.

Britain said so out loud. It would have voted against the resolution without the amendment, Britain warned.

Just before the assembly took its historic action yesterday—it

Concussion From Atomic Blast Hits Las Vegas With Force Of Earthquake

Las Vegas, Nev., Feb. 2—(P)—desolate desert northwest of here. The AEC, as customary, confined itself to confirming that a test had taken place.

Most witnesses agreed that today's concussion came in three waves—a small one, then two with stiff, jolting punches.

As dawn broke, darkish brown clouds were visible in the clear morning air in the direction of the range. They were stretched widely across the horizon in a sort of cirrus pattern.

Both the flash and the concussion today seemed to last longer than in either of the three previous tests.

It took the concussion six minutes to reach here, after a brilliant orange-yellow flash lit the northwestern skies, etching buildings in this gambling resort town and the mountains which ring it.

U. N. FORCES BUT 7 MILES FROM SEOUL

Tokyo, Saturday, Feb. 3—(P)—Tank-led Allied assault forces advanced through thick fog Friday night to points north of Anyang, which is only eight and one-half miles south of Red-held Seoul.

Two to two and one-half miles south of Anyang, however, two companies of Chinese Communists (possibly 40 men) counterattacked at 10 p. m. and still were fighting at midnight.

No details were available on this relatively small Red effort to check the United Nations drive which has gained about 20 miles since it began Jan. 25. Enemy opposition has been slackening daily.

Advance patrols of the Allies have been reported only seven miles from Seoul.

Heavier forces are moving up cautiously, wary against flank attacks which are the favorite Red tactics.

An eighth Army spokesman estimated that 6,650 Chinese and North Korean Communists had been killed by ground action between Jan. 25 and 31. Air reports listed casualties for that period at 1,442, but some may be duplications.

Even so, there was a difference of military opinion as to whether the Allies have cracked the main enemy defenses, despite notable losses in manpower and shrinking morale among the Reds.

In Washington there were reports that high officials have decided U. N. troops should stop at Parallel 38, presumably pending further efforts toward political settlement of the conflict.

An Eighth Army spokesman declined to confirm or deny the Washington report.

Reliable sources said the ghastly threat of typhus has made its appearance among North Korean troops, and that tuberculosis, trench foot, frostbite and other wartime diseases likewise were taking a toll among the Chinese Allies.

Prisoners of war said 50 to 100 per cent of some North Korean companies are infected with typhus, a disease transmitted by vermin from rats. However, U. S. Eighth Army investigators said there was no evidence that Chinese troops have been affected seriously by the disease.

On the Allied right flank, near the juncture of western and central fronts, French and American elements smashed their way out of a trap set by thousands of screaming Communists who leaped wildly into hand-to-hand combat 12 miles north of Yoji.

The fight took a heavy toll among two enemy regiments—about 6,000 men—who spent 12 hours Thursday trying to squeeze U. N. troops into submission by attacks on three sides.

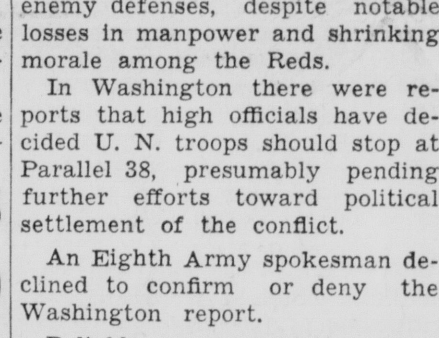

A. P. Correspondent Don Huth said the Allies broke the back of the Communist Banzai charge when air power and reinforcements reached them at 6:30 p. m. Thursday.

Area Facing Six More Weeks Of Winter B'r'er Groundhog Decides After Today's Look

B'r'er Groundhog, venerable weather prophet of the animal kingdom, took one look at the thermometer today, and was just about convinced he should stay in his nice warm bed and forget all about poking his nose outside his burrow.

But old trapper that he is, B'r'er Groundhog finally stirred himself and went through his customary performance—a role that he has played so long he needs no script.

He waddled to the entrance of his underground home, placed a tentative paw on the ice-encrusted snow, squealed with fright when he saw his own shadow and dove back into his warm bed.

"It's a corny act," he muttered to himself, "I must remember to speak to my script-writers about it."

Anyway, according to a long standing tradition of doubtful origin, the fact that the groundhog saw his shadow today supposedly is a sign that there's six long weeks of winter remaining—as if we already haven't had enough of slush, and snow, and ice and frigid temperatures.

King Winter also got into the act by setting a frigid scene for the Groundhog's performance. In a playful mood yesterday, Mr. Icicles mixed up the weather gears, much to the discomfort of motorists and pedestrians in the Warren area.

Early morning rain turned the streets and sidewalks into quagmires of slush. The rain later turned to snow, then to sleet, back to rain, and finally to snow again. The net result was rough, frozen thoroughfares that forced motorists to use chains. Chipping of ice from ice-coated windshields also was a familiar sight around town all day yesterday.

Cars were hard to start in the frigid temperatures, and were even harder to stop on the ice-glazed pavements. What walking was done was accomplished over hills of ice that in roughness approximated that of a rough-plowed field.

State Department of Highways crews and borough street crews worked long hours trying to keep the roads and streets passable. They were on the job again early this morning, with the weatherman giving no sign of relaxing his icy grip.

Lawmakers Split Over Eisenhower's Report On Survey

Washington, Feb. 2—(P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's opposition to a limit on the number of American troops to be sent to Europe split the ranks of lawmakers demanding such a ceiling today.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told a reporter he has not changed his position that congress ought to tie down the number of foot soldiers who could be dispatched to help man western Europe's defenses.

However, Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), who has advocated that congress fix a ration of American to European troops, said he is surprised at Eisenhower's opposition and will have to "think the whole matter over."

Eisenhower has an opportunity tonight to explain more fully his position on this point when he reports to the nation by radio 10:45 on his survey of Western Europe's defenses. His address will be carried on all radio and television networks.

There were indications, however, that the Pentagon does not want to disclose with any exactness the probable U. S. contribution. The reasoning is that Eisenhower's hands should not be tied.

The General talked this morning with members of the house armed services and foreign affairs committees behind closed doors. The senate armed services committee invited him to a luncheon.

Message To Congress Sets Schedule To Yield a Record $10 Billion In New Levies

Washington, Feb. 2—(P)—President Truman today asked congress for a quick $10,000,000,000 tax increase and said he will ask still another increase later.

In a message to the legislators, Mr. Truman set out this program for raising the $10,000,000,000:

1. A $4,000,000,000 increase in individual income taxes, already scheduled to yield a record $26,000,000,000 in the fiscal year starting July 1.
2. A $3,000,000,000 increase in corporation income taxes. These with excess profits taxes included, are scheduled to hit a record $20,000,000,000 next year.
3. A $3,000,000,000 increase in excise (sales) taxes—to be "concentrated upon less essential consumer goods." These taxes are estimated to yield $8,222,000,000 next year, under present tax laws.

The schedule outlined would mean a total tax take of $64,200,000,000.

Defense Blueprint Designed To Shield Penn'a Industries

Harrisburg, Feb. 2—(P)—A civil defense "blueprint" designed to protect Pennsylvania's residents and industries from possible enemy attacks has been completed.

Spokesman for the Civil Defense Commission said the master plan involves outlining of 49 civil defense activities to be carried out on the county and municipal levels.

The details of the plan will be ners as soon as the legislature acts on the proposed civil defense made known to local defense plan-law, slated for action at Monday's session.

Just how much the program will cost the state is not yet settled. Governor John S. Fine said "we still don't know how much money will be necessary."

Fine said the proposed legislation will contain no appropriations to pay for the program. That will come later when the amount of money needed is decided.

Democratic and Republican legislative leaders are scheduled to meet Fine Sunday to go over the measure.

The proposed measure is expected to be similar to legislation in effect during World War II, with tailoring to meet new conditions.

The new law will give county and municipal governing bodies legal authority to take part in a state defense program. It would also give the governor broad emergency powers.

Government's Stop Order Will Affect Furniture Trims

"Take good care of your chrome-plated furniture, because there will be hardly any more for the duration," Hobart A. Green, president of Royal Metal Manufacturing Company, Chicago, parent company that now owns the DeLuxe Metal Co., plant in this city, Royal Metal is one of the world's leading producers of metal furniture for commercial and professional use.

Explaining his warning, which is based on the recent Government "stop" orders on nickel and copper, both of which are needed for chrome plating, Mr. Green pointed out that no more chrome-plated furniture can be made after March 1st. There is even a strong possibility that the manufacture of steel furniture will be drastically reduced, as far as civilian consumption is concerned, because of increasing military orders.

Royal Metal, Mr. Green announced, will continue to produce tubular steel furniture for civilian consumption as long as its non-priority steel supply holds up. Modern enamel finishes will be used instead of the quality chrome plating which has been so popular.

Stressing the fact that baked enamel finishes are not merely a wartime substitute, Mr. Green pointed out that sales of steel furniture with colorful enamel finishes have been climbing steadily in recent years, since manufacturers developed processes which make enamel coatings almost as durable as the metal they adorn.

Among the fields which will be most affected by the expected shortages of metal furniture are offices, factories, restaurants and hotels, hospitals, schools, beauty shops and homes which use chrome dinette sets.

Van Johnson and Kathryn Grayson In a Song Studded Hit Laugh

"GROUNDS FOR MARRIAGE"

Now Playing At The Columbia Theatre

Romance, laughs and song are adroitly combined in "Grounds for Marriage," M-G-M's merry marital mix-up, now playing at the Columbia Theatre, with Van Johnson and Kathryn Grayson teamed as a respective doctor and songstress who find that operas and operations do not mix.

Miss Grayson enacts the alluring young singer who returns to New York from a triumphant European tour determined to recapture the doctor-husband whom, in a fit of temperament, she had divorced a few years previously. The fact that he has meanwhile become enamored of Paula Raymond, attractive daughter of a medical associate, does not deter the ex-wife from using every wile at her command to break up the new romantic attachment. When all else fails, she contracts a curious ailment, known as "Functional Aphonia," and loses her voice. Johnson is informed by the best medical advice that unless he wishes to ruin his former wife's opera career he must co-operate in restoring her "emotional security," a restoration which will insure the return of her voice. When the young doctor, therefore, does his best to aid in Miss Grayson's recovery, Miss Raymond is brought to feel that his "co-operation" goes too far. The resulting three-fold dilemma brings about a series of hilarious romantic complications ending on a high note of laughter and song.

On the same bill a thrilling story of the most daring crime of the century—2,000 feet in the air—"The Great Plane Robbery" starring Tom Conway and Margaret Hamilton.

Not even the incandescent glamour of Hollywood's most beautiful actresses could compete with the disarming charm that Judy Holliday brings to the lush role of Billie Dawn, the ex-chorus girl, in Columbia Pictures' "Born Yesterday," rich and mirthful screen version of Broadway's biggest hit. The film, which also stars William Holden and Broderick Crawford, opens Sunday at Dipson's Palace Theatre in Jamestown.

Hollywood beauties couldn't compete against Judy, although they tried, in the race to land a role universally recognized as starmaker for the girl lucky enough to get it. To theatre-goers throughout the country, Judy is Billie Dawn.

Columbia Pictures, to make sure, gave serious consideration to many other actresses, including Academy Award winners, in what became one of the most sweeping talent searches in years. The movie-makers could find no one, in

Closing Of Some Churches Advised In Lutheran Report

New York. —(T)—Closing of some individual churches and consolidation of others were recommended in a report to the 33rd annual meeting of the National Lutheran Council.

A special committee headed by Dr. Arthur M. Knudsen of Chicago reported that churches in some cases duplicate each others' work. He said elimination of such overlapping functions should be pushed.

"There are times," the report said, "when the closing of a church makes possible the advancement of the kingdom of God." The council represents eight Lutheran bodies with an approximate total of 4,000,000 members. The special committee, which based its findings on a three-year study of 103 case histories, said that little progress can be made in ending overlapping congregational efforts until a policy of encouraging the closing of some churches in the interests of mergers, is adopted.

At present pastors and church officials who take the lead in effecting mergers do not receive—as they should—the official commendation of their church bodies, the report said.

It outlined a plan for conferences among district officials, pastors and laymen to inquire into duplicated church efforts and promote a remedy.

Dr. Paul C. Empie, executive director of the council, said in his annual report that "the total Lutheran witness of the gospel will suffer basic handicaps until Lutheran unity is a reality."

There now are 17 Lutheran branches.

Bryan Field, veteran track authority, is describing outstanding horse racing events during Florida's Hialeah and Gulfstream Park Tracks' 1951 season for Mutual network listeners each Saturday afternoon.

Basketball has become almost exclusively a Friday night game. Tonight the Dragons journey to Titusville to tangle with the Rockets and the next game will be a week from tonight when the Meadville Bulldogs come to town. Chuck Tranter is leaving for a combination business trip-vacation and will not be here for either game so LeRoy Schneck will try a hand at the play-by-play account. He makes no promises except to be sure you know what the score is and frequently, Chuck as one of the state vice presidents of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be attending the state directors meeting and award presentation at Hershey. Adele is going along and they will go on to New York after the Jaycee meeting and do the town along the gay white way.

On tomorrow's Roving Microphone show, Chief of Police Edward Allen of Youngstown, Ohio will tell of some of his experiences and make some very keen observations about crime problems in this country. Chief Allen was the featured speaker at last Saturday's Award Banquet held by the Warren Council of the Boy Scouts. The time is 12:15 tomorrow.

The advent of February means that WNAE is on the air for an additional half hour each day. Sign Off for this month is 5:45.

Many Gather For Golden Wedding Of the Pearsons

A large number of relatives and friends gathered in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pearson, 129 Russell street, to honor them on their 50th wedding anniversary.

Hostesses were their daughters, Mrs. Alton Daugherty and Miss Gretel Pearson, Warren, and Mrs. Russell Quackenbush, Hyattsville, Md.

Congratulations, gifts, flowers, money and cards were received from many relatives and friends, among them cablegrams from relatives in Sweden.

The buffet table was attractively decorated in crystal and gold and centered with a three-tiered anniversary cake in gold and white. Mrs. Carl Berglund served the cake and Mrs. O. B. Stromdahl, a cousin of the bride, poured.

Guests were from Mt. Jewett, Kane and Jamestown, N. Y.

The Pearsons were married January 28, 1901, by the Rev. Carl Henderson in the Swedish Lutheran church then located on East street between Fourth and Fifth avenues. One of the bride's attendants was Miss Elizabeth Pearson, sister of the bridegroom, who is still living and is now residing in Sweden.

'Good Wife' Is the One Her Husband Wants and Needs

In a recent study of happiness in marriage a Wabash College professor discovered that in general the husbands studied rated their own happiness one point below the ratings their wives picked.

Why that difference? Perhaps, it is because so many wives go into marriage with a preconceived idea of what a good wife is or ought to be and never bother to check up to find out if their ideas of what constitutes a good wife are the same as their husbands'.

Mary Jones may believe wholeheartedly that she is an excellent wife because she is a good cook, a thrifty housekeeper, and a responsible mother.

Bill Jones, while accepting those qualities as his natural due, may believe that a good wife also should be a happy-hearted companion, intellectually capable of keeping up with her husband.

JUDGES MARRIAGE BY HERSELF

If Mary has never bothered to find out what Bill thinks a wife should be—but knows she is all that she thinks a wife should be—then it would be natural for her to assume that her marriage is a happier partnership than it actually is.

Nobody in the world can tell a woman how to be a good wife. That is something she has to learn after marriage. And she has to learn the answer by studying her own husband to find out what he needs from the woman who shares his life.

The woman who doesn't hold her husband's love and then says self-righteously "I was a good wife to him" just doesn't understand that a good wife is one who is right for her husband.

SHEFFIELD

Sheffield, Feb. 2—Monday evening will witness the grand reopening of Sheffield's popular bowling center, the Bowlaway, which was damaged by fire early last Thanksgiving morning and which has been repaired and rebuilt since then. H. H. Baldensperger is owner and operator of the Bowlaway which had been in operation only three weeks when damaged by fire.

The four alleys, damaged by the fire, have been replaced by the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company, and the interior of the building rebuilt and redecorated as it was before.
An exhaust fan has been installed in the building which changes the air in the building every ten minutes. The spectators' chairs which had not arrived in time for the Bowlaway's original opening in November are expected any day. There has been a delay as the Heywood-Wakefield company from whom the chairs were ordered has been on strike.

Notices were sent out this week to subscribers of the Home Telephone company of Sheffield stating that effective April 1 rates for the phone service will be increased.
Rising cost of labor, materials and supplies, as well as taxes and all other items which go into the cost of furnishing telephone service make it necessary for the company to revise rates.
Increases range from approximately 6% for private line business telephones to approximately 14% for multi-party and four party residence service. Extension telephones which have remained unchanged in price for 25 years are increased 25 cents per month. Local subscribers have enjoyed the lowest rate for telephone service (Turn to Page Fourteen)

A schedule of matches set up by the group will be fired during weeks designated as follows: February 5, Kane vs. Warren; February 12, Kane vs. Bradford; February 19, Warren vs. Bradford; February 26, Kane vs. Warren; March 5, Bradford vs. Kane, and March 12, Bradford vs. Warren.

February Quota In Draft Set At 2055

The State Selective Service today issued a call for 2055 more men to meet Pennsylvania's February draft quota of 5433. None of the men for the new group will be called from Warren county, although other boards in the area have been asked to send groups to Erie for induction on February 20, as follows:

Emporium 2, Erie 58, Couderport 6, and Franklin 30.

The new induction call is in addition to a previous February call in which the Warren board has been asked to send 25 men to Erie on February 13 for induction. A group of men also will go to Erie on February 12 for pre-induction physical examinations.

Washington, Feb. 2—(P)—The defense department has asked that 80,000 men be drafted into the army during April—the same number requested for each of the first three months of the year.

The April call, announced yesterday, will bring the total army draft requests to 530,000 men since drafting was resumed last fall.

The navy and air force are continuing to rely on volunteers.

PAULEY SAYS RUSSIA OIL RESOURCES LOW

Long Beach, Calif., Feb. 2—(P)—Edwin Pauley, experienced oilman and former U. S. reparations official, says that Russia's oil resources are highly overrated.

"With the exception of the Caspian sea area," Pauley told a meeting of the Long Beach Ad Club yesterday, "Russia has less oil resources than the city of Long Beach."

The lack of oil and industrial plant is Russia's vulnerable point, Pauley declared. As President Truman's reparations officer, Pauley visited Russia several years ago.

Area Facing Six More Weeks of Winter

To top it off, another cold wave was reported bearing down on Pennsylvania today. The weather bureau forecast more snow flurries for many parts of the state, and said temperatures tonight will fall as low as 10 degrees below zero in western Pennsylvania. Some moderation was promised for Saturday.

The once-a-year Groundhog performance had a local angle and also saw another chapter being written in that long standing feud between the famed woodchucks of Gobbler's Knob near Punxsutawney and Quarryville in the eastern part of the state.

William Iseman, of 118 Cayuga avenue, said he was watching a groundhog hole early this morning and he saw B'r'er Groundhog poke his nose out of the burrow, look at his shadow and then quickly disappear. A Jackson Run resident phoned to say he didn't see a groundhog, but he did see eight robins on the ice-crusted snow.

Shoppers in the business district chuckled over a display in honor of Groundhog Day at Don Finley's store. The display, mounted in the entrance way, consisted of a stuffed woodchuck, adorned in Hollywood style with a pair of sun glasses.

Watchers at Gobbler's Knob claim their woodchuck—which they said is the one and only prophet—made his appearance at precisely 8:41 a. m. Dr. F. A. Lorenzo, president of the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club, declared: "That Quarryville pretender isn't a groundhog at all. He looks more like a Pennsylvania polecat every year."

From the Quarryville clan of groundhog watchers comes word that "there isn't any place as Punxsutawney, Pa. You won't find it listed in the postal guide in Quarryville. It was deleted in 1888 by borough ordinance."

Rail Strike Cuts Deeper Into Business

a tieup at the Pitcairn yards, one of the largest in the country. From Altoona it was reported that coal mining in that area might be halted by the walkout of some 60 PRR brakemen employed at Juniata Falls, where all coal shipped from nearby mines is weighed.

In Philadelphia freight movements were all but at a standstill.

Many business firms started planning a cutback in production and employment, in the event of a prolonged strike.

The Pennsylvania said seven passenger trains linking this city with western points were being annulled today 'until further notice.'

Message to Congress Sets Schedule

Congressional tax leaders have said it will be at least June before action can be completed on Mr. Truman's tax proposals. While Snyder will present the details of how the administration thinks another $4,000,000,000 of individual income taxes can be collected, congressional courses have said Mr. Truman contemplates raising individual income taxes by $4 on each $100 of income left after deductions and personal exemptions of $600 per dependent.

RECORD SETTER—Waving from the cockpit of his souped-up single-engine Mustang fighter plane is Charles F. Blair Jr., 41, veteran American commercial pilot, just after he landed at London Airport seven hours and 48 minutes after leaving New York. Blair logged 10,000 miles and seven minutes off the old record for the 3500-mile non-stop flight.

HOSE TO NO END—Where it's all connected can't be seen in the picture, above, but it took hundreds of yards of fire hose to pour enough water onto the burning buildings at right to bring under control a general alarm fire in the heart of downtown Houston, Tex. The fire of undetermined origin wreaked an estimated $2,000,000 damage to nine stores before being checked by 350 firemen who fought the blaze in sub-zero weather.

WELCOME WINDFALL—Supply-short G.I.'s on the ground below find this a welcome sight as they look skyward in South Korea. A C-119 "flying boxcar" of the U. S. Far East Air Force Cargo Combat Command parachutes rations and gasoline to the fighters below.

THAT'S IT, LADY—London butcher A. R. Woodgate shows a housewife what her meat ration will look like now that the government has trimmed it another 20 per cent. Under the new ration, a person is allowed only four ounces of rump steak a week.

EASY ON THE ICE—A vehicle for winter sportsmen who can take their exercise or leave it is this "motor-ice" built by Jack Saunders, a Lakewood, N. J., hotel maintenance man. With a sleigh runner where the front wheel used to be, the motor bike scoots over the ice with the greatest of ease.

RETURNS WITH REPORT—Welcomed by President Truman at National Airport, Washington, D. C., is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower just after he alighted from a plane which brought him back to the capital after a three-week survey of Western European defenses. His report on the Atlantic Pact nations is expected to insure congressional support of the President's plan to commit American troops to the unified Western European defense force.

J.—isn't impressed by the gesture of friendship made by the little black pooch. All the sad ceramic pup wants to do is stay there on display in a showing of art works by members of the Monmouth County Artists' Guild.

REDS STIFFEN BELOW SEOUL—UN advance below Seoul was stalled as Communists threw extra heavy opposition against five-day-old Allied offensive. UN troops inched forward on line from Suwon (1) east to Yojiu under cover of jet fighter-bombers which laid down fiery blanket (blast symbols) ahead of them. On east coast, ROK troops stabbed into Kangnung (2) as powerful naval task force, led by battleship Missouri, devastated Kansong (3). 48 miles northwest. Fifteen miles southwest of Tanyang (4) South Korean unit cleaned up enemy guerrilla force of about 1300.

Making Christianity Work

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

PAUL once reported a saying of Jesus unwritten elsewhere, or expressed it as a summing up of what Jesus had said and taught, when he admonished the Christians of Ephesus in his farewell address to "remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'"

There, in a sentence, is the contrast with a world whose daily life largely concerns the business of getting.

Men try to soften that contrast by talking about "enlightened self-interest," and by emphasizing the advantages of a free, competitive system, sometimes more competitive than free.

Certainly the system is more advantageous than any other system to which society has yet attained, and it should not be sacrificed for any system of totalitarianism and dictatorship.

But the contrast between the best that society has developed, and what the coming of the kingdom of God would mean—a world in which men actually believed and practiced that it is more blessed to give than to receive—is so great as to raise the question whether Christianity can really be made to work in a Christian society.

I think it would help it, with greater clarity, we saw both the goal and the problem. Many utterly ignore the goal, and though they pray daily, "Thy kingdom come," speak and act as if we had already attained it. Others sometimes speak and act as if by some religious hocus-pocus, or organizational changes, we could succeed in bringing in that kingdom without effecting comparable changes in the hearts of men.

Some years ago one of our great church councils debated for some days the profit motive, and on the closing day, when many delegates had already gone home, passed by an unimpressive majority a resolution roundly condemning it. It was a futile gesture, and one that could only lead to antagonizing reactions and confusion.

It is obvious that the noblest Christian lives, such as those of the late Jane Addams, and Grenfell of Labrador, are lived upon the basis of something higher than the profit motive; but it is equally obvious that the businessman, when he goes from his church on Sunday to his business on Monday, has to make a profit, or go out of business.

He may, of course, have a higher motive, and may make his business, as many have, even in a competitive world, serve Christian ends. He is, however, part of a society and a system within the orbit of which his business must be conducted; we are all in a way parts of our environment and subject to at least some of its limitations.

So, in a sense, our problem becomes that of putting into a world still so largely un-Christian as much Christian living as we can. One might compare Christians to those living in a house while it is being made over and rebuilt.

There is no world to which we can move out, while the remodeling process goes on, and much adaptation is inevitable. Yet great, effective transformations can be made, if the Christian goal and the Christian purpose are never forgotten.

BETHEL WSCS SERVICE

WSCS members will be in charge of the 11 a. m. service Sunday in Bethel EUB church in observance of World Service Day throughout the denomination. The pastor will bring the message at the 7:30 p. m. service, taking for his topic, "The Woman For An Emergency," and Mrs. Ruby Jackson will bring the special music. Youngsville Merchants Throw Scare Into Style Shoppers By Holding Them to 55-53 Score

The Youngsville Merchants threw a scare into the Style Shop in the Y City loop last night, yielding to the Stylists by a mere two-point margin, 55-53. Other action gave the Rockets a 42-37 triumph over the Ramblers.

Youngsville managed to hold the lead over their stronger opponent all through the first half, heading them by two points at the end of the opening section and by a single count at the half-way mark. The underdogs continued to push ahead in the third quarter, by as much as five points several times, before Dick Scalise tied it up for the Style Shop 38-38, with less than two minutes remaining. "Stud" Simpson tipped one in for a two-point lead, but Freeborough matched it to make a tie game at the three-quarter mark.

The victors then pulled out in front, but never more than three points ahead until the last minute of play. Dick Spencer tied the score twice for the Merchants, but George "Ace" Hesch popped a field goal and charity toss and then cooled off with a one-hander from the pivot, pulling the Stylists out in front 55-51. Bill Pollard slipped in the final basket as the game climaxed.

Hesch also took individual scoring honors last night, with 18 points, followed by Gail Nelson with 16. For Youngsville, Spencer and Stu Smith had 15 each.

Competition was just as keen between the Rockets and Ramblers, the scoreboard reading 24-24 at the half. The Rockets picked up a two-point edge in the third quarter and were held to a similar count through most of the last section. Then Bill Tannier accounted for five quick points, leaving the Ramblers seven points behind. Jim Eckman and Chuck Berdine each hit to pick up four of these, but Bob Guiffre sewed it up with two free tosses.

For the winners, Dan Jackson ripped the nets for 16 points, Jim Peterson having 12 for the losers.

Warren Dragons Start 2nd Half League Race Against Rockets

Warren High Dragons start down the backstretch of the Section 2 basketball League race tonight, and prospects are that the locals will make a much better showing than in the first four games.

Tonight's game will be against the Titusville Rockets, and will be played on the Titusville court. Another Section 2 scrap will pair Oil City against Meadville on the Meadville court.

In the first half of the league race, Warren lost successive games to Titusville, (51-41), Meadville, (41-30), and Oil City (56-39), before garnering its initial league win against Franklin, (53-52). But the Dragons apparently have "found" themselves, as indicated by their stellar performances against Bradford and Franklin, and are expected to at least make the Sect. 2 race interesting in the homestretch.

TOP SCORER—Jim Peterson, towering Rambler forward, broke into the 200 scoring bracket in the Y City League last night, to maintain his lead as individual high scorer of the league. Jim took over the position three weeks ago when he pulled out in front of Bill Weidert, Atlantic scoring ace, and now has an average of over 15 tallies a game, with a 201 point total in 13 contests.

The Worthy Admiral

This is the story of a horse, a courageous little dark brown colt named "War Admiral." It was at the 69th running of the Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park, Long Island in June 1937, that War Admiral, ridden by Charlie Kurtsinger, was the hero of the day. The Admiral, thrashing around at the starting post, kicked a big chunk of flesh out of his right front leg just above the hoof, as he leaped away at the "go".

For a moment it looked as if the Admiral was going to topple over and Charlie had all he could do to keep in the saddle. But the great War Admiral didn't topple... he wasn't finished, he was furious. Another contender, Flying Scot was already in the lead and that was where War Admiral belonged. He flew down the track, overtook Flying Scot, breezed right on past and with blood streaming from the great gash in his front leg, he won the gruelling one and a half mile race, breaking the 17 year track record by one-fifth of a second. His time was 2:28 3/5 seconds. The Admiral was entitled to "pull" his rank that day.

For a car that fairly "leaps away" at the "go" signal, come to Carlson Service Stores and inspect the Oldsmobile Rocket—never before has such power and pep been built into an engine. Place your order NOW for earliest delivery.

TAKEN FOR A RIDE—There is more than one way of getting down the ice as displayed here by Cleveland's Sam Lavitt, as he piles atop the Mohawks' Jean Paul Dennis in Cincinnati. Dennis lost the puck as a result of the pile-up, and the home team dropped the game, 4-2. (NEA)

It Isn't Easy for Gamblers To Corrupt College Cagers

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—When college basketball put on long pants, the game got too big for its britches, and was kicked there.

It's time, in connection with the annual expose of fixed games, to put out the piece on sending college kids back to the campus with their casaca.

This would be a hardship on many athletic departments, it's true, but if that is going to stop sure-thing crooks from corrupting college boys, the schools should be first to act.

City College of New York's gymnasium accommodates all of 1100 persons, for example. City annually takes out of the Madison Square Garden dates something like $85,000, which maintains all other sports at the big institution on New York's upper west side. So many more men can be outfitted.

Basketball in more recent years has acted the part of football as a good provider at many schools.

Columbia, which sticks to its own backyard in all branches of athletics, stretched its unbeaten streak to 20 repelling highly-regarded Cornell, Princeton and Pennsylvania in its University Hall, jammed-packed with 2300 sitting and 700 standing, none of whom could see too well because of posts.

With basketball confined to the home base, there wouldn't be nearly as many transcontinental trips as have been made since it became big business.

That would also be too bad, but boys losing their sense of moral value is much too high a price to pay for any kind of traveling.

It may be significant that never has a bribe or an offer of one been disclosed in connection with a game played in a college gymnasium. There was little or no betting on basketball until Ned Irish put the college version of it on big time at the Garden and it spread to other major arenas.

In the spacious stadiums, exciting, honest college basketball quickly took its place with baseball and college football, behind racing, as a betting medium.

In the larger halls, basketball was exposed to thousands who hadn't seen it since they played it as youngsters. Radio and then television brought it even farther into the calcium's glare.

With college kids scuffling for date money, it was inevitable that the despicable fixer would move in.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

JOE'S ACTING ABILITY ISN'T UP TO PAR

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service Everybody knows the tradition that the stage comedian yearns to play Hamlet and that the Saint Bernard may fancy itself as a lap-dog. Likewise, our old friend Hard Luck Joe sometimes tries to act like Larceny Lou. The results are funny to everybody but Joe. (West opens, the four of hearts, and dummy won with the ace. Joe saw that he could eventually discard the losing heart on a high spade if East held the ace of spades. Therefore Joe drew three rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, and led the king of spades through East. When East played the ace of spades, Joe's face lit up like a five-cent cigar, in fact like a trick cigar that blew up. Joe ruffed with his fourth trump and looked triumphantly at the dummy for about one second. Then his face changed from triumph to despair. If Joe led his last trump to dummy he could discard his losing heart on the queen of spades but they could not bring in the diamonds. Joe would have no trumps to prevent the opponents from running spades and hearts in huge quantities.

It was at this point that a look of cunning came on Joe's guileless face. He led a low diamond from his hand in the hope that West would play low and allow dummy's nine to win the trick. If West had done so, Joe would have discarded the losing heart on dummy's queen of spades and would still have a trump left to assure an entry after the ace of diamonds had been knocked out.

However, Joe's face is a little too easy to read, so that he will never be able to get away with the exploits of Larceny Lou. West saw at a glance what Joe was after, so he promptly put up the ace of diamonds and returned his remaining heart. This set the contract immediately.

Of course Joe would have made his contract if he hadn't tried to draw trump so quickly.

After winning the first trick with the ace of hearts, he should have led the king of spades at once. Then he would have been able to ruff out the ace of spades, draw three rounds of trumps, get his discard, and still bring in the diamond suit.

Game Violations Are Heard In Court

Three game violation cases were heard before Judge Allison D. Wade in county court yesterday, all appeals from Justice of the Peace hearings. Case of the Commonwealth vs. Frank J. The Changing Landscapes

HAROLD W. GEIGER

Hello Folks:

By the time you read this item you will have the answer as to whether or not Mr. Groundhog saw his shadow today. I, for one, hope he did not and that the early spring is on the way. Regardless of what Mr. Groundhog predicts, the records show that we have had over six feet of snow so far this year. That is a lot more snow than we have had in many a whole year in the past so I am ready for spring and the application of a lot of conservation practices on the land.

As you all know by now Harold Geiger has resigned from the Soil Conservation Service to accept a position with the Glatfelter Paper Company. Harold has been in Warren County since the Conservation District first started in the summer of 1948. His many friends throughout the county and we, who have worked with "Hal" in the past, regret seeing him leave here. However, we are glad he has found a position near his home and in his chosen profession of Forestry, and we all wish him the best of luck in his new undertaking.

I will keep you advised of activities and items of interest to all conservation farmers. Along this line I have been hearing remarks about conservation work slowing up in our all out effort for war. Research on two groups of farms under similar conditions of soil, slope and climate showed a 33% increase in production on farms practicing conservation measures over the farms not practicing them.

Dr. H. H. Bennett, Chief of the Soil Conservation Service says: "Soil conservation is an indispensable part of our first line of national defense. The other part of our first line of national defense is, of course, strong soldiers, guns and bullets. The two are mutually sustaining; one can not exist without the other. If we lose our soil, there will be little to defend, and only hungry soldiers for defense."

This means conservation farming is even more necessary and important in these critical times than in peace times. In view of the above fact and statement I hardly think there will be any slowing up of conservation work in the days ahead but rather a determined effort to increase it. See you next week.

LINCOLN AND GETTYSBURG

The question of inviting Lincoln to speak at Gettysburg plagued the committee for some time, but finally he was invited to the dedication.

The invitation said that after Everett's oration "it is our desire that you, as Chief Executive of the nation, formally set apart these grounds to their sacred use by a few appropriate remarks."

The letter warned Lincoln that "the occasion calls for no humor, and a long speech is not expected." Lincoln went to the White House study and wrote the first draft of "a short speech."

he said, 23 counties are now accredited while testing has been completed in five others, and partially in 19.

Cattle under supervision by the state total 689,903 head. Of these, 389,353 are under the area plan and 300,550 are under the individual plan.

In a report on accomplishments last year, the committee said that 66 of the state's 67 counties have now organized Brucellosis control groups.

The county groups were organized under a revised Bang's disease control program which got underway last year.

"We've come a long way in a year's time and have made real progress," said R. H. Olmstead, head of dairy extension at the Pennsylvania State College.

If we continue to pull together, and clarify problems as they arise we can expect to make continued progress," Olmstead declared.
